

SPOLIA. Journal of Medieval Studies

Essays 2024, anno XX, n. 10 n.s.

Scientificità riconosciuta per tutta l'area10

RIVISTA DI CLASSE A / SCOPUS

- 10/A1 ARCHEOLOGIA
10/B1 STORIA DELL'ARTE
10/C1 TEATRO, MUSICA, CINEMA, TELEVISIONE E MEDIA AUDIOVISIVI
10/D1 STORIA ANTICA
10/D2 LINGUA E LETTERATURA GRECA
10/D3 LINGUA E LETTERATURA LATINA
10/D4 FILOLOGIE CLASSICHE, MEDIO-ANTICA
10/E1 FILOLOGIE E LETTERATURA MEDIO-LATINE E ROMANZE
10/F1 LETTERATURA ITALIANA
10/F2 LETTERATURA ITALIANA CONTEMPORANEA

- 10/F3 LINGUISTICA E FILOLOGIA ITALIANA
10/F4 CRITICA LETTERARIA E LETTERATURE COMPARATE
10/G1 GLOTTICOLOGIA E LINGUISTICA
10/H1 LINGUA, LETTERATURA E CULTURA FRANCESE
10/I1 LINGUE, LETTERATURE E CULTURE SPAGNOLE E ISPANO-AMERICANE
10/I1 LINGUE, LETTERATURE E CULTURE INGLESE E ANGLO-AMERICANA
10/J1 LINGUE, LETTERATURE E CULTURE GERMANICHE
10/M1 SLAVISTICA
10/N1 CULTURE DEL VICINO ORIENTE ANTICO, DEL MEDIO ORIENTE E DELL'AFRICA
10/N2 CULTURE DELL'ASIA CENTRALE E ORIENTALE

Direzione

Teresa Nocita (L'Aquila - Università degli studi)

Comitato editoriale

Paolo Divizia (Brno - Masaryk University); Paolo Garbini (Roma - Università Sapienza); Stéphane Gioanni (Université de Lyon); Francesco Guizzi (Roma - Università Sapienza); Maria Ana Ramos (Zürich - Universität); Lucilla Spetia (L'Aquila - Università degli studi)

Comitato scientifico

Giuseppina Brunetti (Bologna - Università Alma Mater); Paolo Canettieri (Roma - Università Sapienza); Fulvio Delle Donne (Università degli Studi della Basilicata); Benoît Grévin (CNRS); Vito Lorè (Università degli Studi di Roma3); Donatella Manzoli (Roma - Università Sapienza); Michela Nocita (Roma - Università Sapienza); Carlo Pulsoni (Università degli Studi di Perugia); Ines Ravasini (Università degli Studi di Bari); Christof Schuler (München - Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität; Erster Direktor der Kommission für Alte Geschichte und Epigraphik DAI); Francesco Ursini (Roma - Università Sapienza); Bryan Ward-Perkins (Oxford - Trinity College); Francesca Zagari (Università degli Studi della Tuscia)

SPOLIA. Journal of Medieval Studies

ISSN 1824-727X

Registrazione presso il Tribunale di Civitavecchia n. 663/04 del
24.08.2004 - Direttore responsabile: Teresa Nocita

Teresa Nocita - Angelo Piacentini

BoBo (Boccaccio Bookshelf): Giovanni Boccaccio's "Virtual" Library

Abstract: This research project aims to reconstruct Boccaccio's "virtual" library and, with the help of technology, to make it directly accessible for internet users. The entire corpus of manuscripts, autographs and annotations belonging to the author will be made available full-text for virtual "open-stacks" research. The project will give direct access to the manuscripts already available on the Web with links to their digital reproductions. In addition, it intends to provide for the digitization of unavailable or poorly digitized manuscripts, such as Krakow, Biblioteka Muzeum Narodowego, Oddzial Zbiory Czartoryskich, MS 2566; London, British Library, MS Harley 5383; Toledo, Archivo y Biblioteca Capitulares, MS Zelada 104.6. Upon completion of the project, Boccaccio's entire collection will be available for consultation sine aliqua diminutione, as stated in his will bequeathing his library to the convent of Santo Spirito in Florence.

Keywords: Boccaccio; Library; Manuscripts; Digital Humanities.

Authors' libraries mirror their knowledge and interests, representing the cultural repository from which they draw inspiration, the landscape within which their literary activity develops. In the case of medieval writers, the library is also an important witness from which to reconstruct the circulation of Latin and Greek classics, scientific works, Arabic texts, and French and Provençal literature.

Recent years have seen a growing interest in the personal libraries of the great medieval authors of Italian literature: Dante, Petrarch, and Boccaccio. An important exhibition at the Accademia dei Lincei in Rome, dedicated to Dante's library, has reached in January 2022 its conclusion. As Roberto Antonelli notes in his introduction to the exhibition catalog:

In Dante's works and in the Comedy in particular, the tradition of classical, Christian, medieval and Romanesque culture is epitomized as if in a summa: authors, books, schools of poetry and philosophy, encyclopedias, ancient myths and Christian dogmas, canonical writers and obscure authors all come under the path of Dante's gaze. Indeed, while writing his texts, the poet simultaneously rewrites his own literary tradition. In this sense, understanding which readings, which books materially nourished Alighieri's